Deeply trusted and versatile attorney guiding businesses of all sizes through complex transactions and strategic growth. Empowering clients with sound legal counsel and effective solutions.

Nora Miller is a trusted advisor to small businesses and entrepreneurs, guiding them through a broad range of matters, including contracts, negotiations, real estate transactions, corporate structuring and restructuring, financing, and business acquisitions and sales. She works closely with founders and business owners, helping them establish, grow, and protect their ventures while providing strategic counsel on trademarks, tax structuring, and governance across various industries, including healthcare. Her practice also includes assisting clients with commercial real estate transactions, bond transactions, and preparing custom agreements. Nora has extensive experience helping business owners navigate asset purchases and sales and regularly works with clients who want to remain involved in operations after the sale of their business.

Nora excels at structuring and managing business relationships through operating agreements, partnership agreements, joint ventures, and other contractual arrangements. She fosters win-win scenarios that cultivate long-term, successful partnerships while helping clients anticipate and address legal and business challenges. With a strong emphasis on collaboration, she works seamlessly with colleagues to provide comprehensive business solutions when matters extend beyond the legal scope.

Known for her ability to distill complex legal concepts into clear, actionable advice, Nora utilizes strong communication skills to guide clients through nuanced transactions and legal frameworks.
