Adeptly handles complex civil matters through all phases of litigation. Brings a practical understanding of litigation strategy and risk, providing clients with thoughtful, thorough, and effective representation.

Alexa Joy Kleinberg represents government entities in commercial litigation, premises liability, and personal injury matters, providing strategic and practical representation focused on protecting clients' interests and achieving effective results. Before focusing her practice on government defense, she represented multinational insurance carriers in complex disputes across multiple jurisdictions, handling first-party and third-party property claims, coverage disputes, and bad faith matters. Her broader experience includes condominium and homeowners' association matters, First Amendment issues, employment and labor disputes, as well as a summer internship with the Office of the State Attorney for Florida's 17th Judicial Circuit. Alexa is also a Florida-licensed real estate professional, providing practical insight into real estate, property, and related matters.
