Accomplished attorney skilled in navigating complex business challenges, executing high-value transactions, and developing innovative compliance solutions. Focused on risk management, corporate governance, and legal strategies that drive business growth.

Drew Haggard is a versatile attorney who leads high-stakes corporate transactions, navigates complex regulatory frameworks, and builds effective compliance programs for global organizations. His practice encompasses corporate law, mergers and acquisitions, technology transactions, and data privacy, taking a holistic approach to business opportunities and challenges developed through his prior experience as a trusted general counsel. He also provides risk management strategies, corporate governance, and structuring and negotiating high-value agreements with Fortune 500 companies and U.S. and global governments and militaries.

Prior to joining GrayRobinson, Drew served as general counsel and corporate secretary for a $500 million aerospace and technology company group with worldwide operations. In this capacity, he oversaw the $640 million sale of the company and implemented enterprise-wide risk management strategies. Drew also navigated complex legal challenges, including managing the wind-down of operations in high-risk geopolitical environments, ensuring compliance with international sanctions, and protecting organizational interests.

Drew combines sharp legal insight with strategic vision to help clients overcome challenges and achieve business objectives. His leadership skills and ability to deliver practical, results-driven solutions position him as a valued advisor to clients navigating legal and business interests.
