Skilled litigator managing complex commercial, construction, and real estate disputes. Combining practical experience and keen legal insight to deliver customized solutions.

Hannah Blount McDonough is an attorney in the GrayRobinson Pensacola office, focusing her practice on complex commercial, construction, and real estate litigation. She handles all aspects of litigation, including discovery, motion drafting, trial preparation, and court proceedings. Hannah also litigates and advises on matters involving estates, trusts, and guardianships, bringing a well-rounded perspective to her practice. Committed to delivering effective legal solutions, she prioritizes staying current on legal updates and trends within her areas of focus.

Prior to joining GrayRobinson, Hannah interned with the Honorable Ana Maria Garcia of the 14th Judicial Circuit, gaining valuable insight into civil, criminal, and family law proceedings. During this time, she also assisted families and individuals affected by Hurricane Michael, reflecting her dedication to the community.
