Thoughtful advocate with a strong foundation in business and civil litigation. Supporting clients through disputes with efficiency and practical strategy.

Morgan Williamson is an associate attorney focused on business and civil litigation. She represents clients in dispute resolution and litigation with sound judgment and close attention to the practical realities that affect business operations.

Morgan's interest in the intersection of law and business and her background in commercial litigation inform her practice. With a strong foundation in legal research, discovery strategy, and motion drafting, she approaches each engagement with commitment and a dedication to responsiveness and client satisfaction.
