GrayRobinson Adds Estate Planning Pro From Harrison In Fla.

By Lynn LaRowe

Law360 (August 8, 2024, 12:57 PM EDT) -- GrayRobinson PA has bolstered its private client services section with a shareholder in Naples, Florida, who came aboard from Harrison LLP.

Lorna McGeorge has two decades of experience in estate planning, the firm said Wednesday in a statement. Her practice is focused on delivering strategies to maximize and protect generational wealth transfers for high-net-worth and ultra-high-net-worth individuals and families, the firm said.

Erik Shuman, chair of the firm's private client services section, said in the statement, "Lorna has an excellent reputation for counseling and working with clients with estate planning needs to develop appropriate strategies and help alleviate the anxiety that accompanies the intricate process."

"As a trusted advocate, I have no doubt Lorna will be a valuable new resource for our clients and referral sources," Shuman said.

McGeorge provides guidance on a wide range of tax, asset protection and estate planning issues, including estate and trust administration, individual retirement planning and family business planning, the firm said.

She has expertise in advanced estate planning techniques and trusts, the firm said.

McGeorge said in the statement, "I am thrilled to join GrayRobinson and have the opportunity to work with some of the best professionals in the industry and become further ingrained in our Naples community and across the state."

"I am passionate about protecting the prosperity of Floridians and look forward to continuing to enhance estates, wills and trust service offerings," McGeorge said.

McGeorge was a partner with Harrison for over two years before departing for GrayRobinson, her LinkedIn profile shows. Before that, she practiced for more than six years with Dentons Cohen & Grigsby, according to her LinkedIn profile.

McGeorge earned her law degree from Quinnipiac University School of Law. She also holds a master of laws in taxation from New York University School of Law and a bachelor's degree from the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill.

Earlier this month, the firm announced that it had added five associates in Florida to its private client services, litigation, and real estate and land use sections.

GrayRobinson is a full-service law firm with 14 offices across the Sunshine State as well as a location in Washington, D.C.
