Guardianship

GrayRobinson guardianship attorneys provide knowledgeable and experienced assistance in the area of guardianships. We can effectively and efficiently handle any guardianship situation which may arise. We assist our clients in establishing guardianships, filing required annual reports with the courts, petitions for permission in various situations and documents required to terminate a guardianship when it is no longer necessary.

Our guardianship attorneys can assist you in establishing guardianships for minors who have received assets due to inheritance or accident settlements. GrayRobinson also handles guardianships of adults who have become incompetent through illness, age or injury and now need a guardian to handle their financial affairs and make important health decisions on their behalf.

Adults who are competent now but anticipate the need for a guardianship in the future, either for themselves or their heirs, are also encouraged to work in conjunction with our wealth transfer, estate planning and trusts attorneys to plan for their needs so that a guardianship will not be necessary.
