Trusts

GrayRobinson trust attorneys have extensive experience in estate planning and probate. Attorneys on the team are certified by The Florida Bar in Tax, as well as Wills, Trusts and Estates and several other lawyers are certified public accountants.

While representing individuals, businesses or families, the trusts and estate planning attorneys carefully plan in a manner that is advantageous for tax purposes, whether it's for a family business succession plan, the disposition and/or distribution of property upon death or the management of property in the event of incapacity. This sensitive, important planning can be accomplished through various methods including Wills, Revocable Living Trusts, Irrevocable Life Insurance Trusts, Children's Trusts, Generation-Skipping Trusts, Family Limited Partnerships, Charitable Remainder Trusts, Charitable Lead Trusts and other charitable split-interest trusts, as well as other estate planning vehicles and techniques including non-probate assets (i.e., insurance, IRAs, pension plans and jointly held property). The expense and complexities associated with probate can be enormous, but with our trusts and estate planning experience, we can effectively and efficiently handle any probate or trust administration that may arise.
